

NSF HSI National STEM Resource Hub Mini Grantsmanship Workshops

Preparing an NSF Career Application:

Are you a junior faculty member who seeks long-term funding for your research and education program?

NSF CAREER awards support junior faculty who are teacher-scholars with awards for research and education activities for five consecutive years. This workshop will guide applicants through the nuts and bolts of CAREER award proposal.

Session 1: 2/11/2022 (8AM PST- 1 PM PST)
Early admission apply by date: December 21, 2021

APPLICATION:

<https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/miniworkshop-spr2022>

Supported by the National Science Foundation Awards 1832338 and 1832345.

KAREN MABRY,
NMSU

Karen Mabry earned her Ph.D. in Animal Behavior from the University of California, Davis. Her research program at NMSU focuses on the behavior and ecology of animals in environments that vary across space and time; much of this work has been supported by NSF awards. From 2017-2020, she was a Program Officer in the Directorate for Biological Sciences at the National Science Foundation, where she managed the merit review process for the Animal Behavior Program and interacted with researchers concerning all aspects of proposal submission and review.